SUBMISSION

Thank you for the opportunity provided to complete a submission on the Consultation Paper - Shortening the Settlement Cycle for Cash Equities in Australia, released in February 2014

Submission content

Noting the intention of member states of the European Union to transition to a standardized T+2 settlement cycle from 1 January 2015, we are broadly in agreement with the proposal to transition to T+2 in Australia and New Zealand.

Given the number of dual listed securities between Australia and New Zealand we believe it should be a priority for the ASX and the NZX to move to a T+2 settlement cycle at the same time.

The New Zealand time zone in relation to Australia and countries further offshore poses unique challenges for the New Zealand market which will need to be discussed in detail by all New Zealand market participants.

We commend the ASX for seeking to engage with the NZX on this matter and ask that the ASX consider taking this opportunity to align the ex-record dates for corporate actions on dual listed securities across both markets. We also request consideration be made to automation of all shunting between Australian and New Zealand registers as a means to achieve more efficient settlement of dual listed stock. This will further assist with risk reduction to market participants, including under a T+2 settlement regime.
