

ASX makes ASX Operating Rule and ASX Settlement Operating Rule amendments to facilitate ETP naming convention updates

ASX Operating Rules and ASX Settlement Operating Rules – Amendments to facilitate updated ETP naming guidance.

What's changing?

On 30 November 2023, ASX published a response to consultation feedback regarding proposed amendments to the ASX Operating Rules, ASX Operating Rules Procedures and ASX Settlement Operating Rules to:

- implement ASIC's revised INFO 230 expectations regarding ETP naming conventions;
- provide a clear transitional framework for existing AQUA Product Issuers for the migration of existing AQUA Products to the new naming convention; and
- make other consequential structural enhancements and tidy-up amendments to Schedule 10A of the ASX Operating Rules (AQUA Rules).

The Rule and Procedure amendments have now received regulatory clearance and ASX confirms that they will become effective on Monday, 15 April 2024. The amendments are unchanged from the form of the amendments included in the response to consultation, other than for identifying their commencement date as 15 April 2024 (replacing certain placeholders - refer to Notes to Rules 10A.5.1(a) and 10A.5.1(a) and Rule 10A.11.1).

Please find below a copy of the amendments to the:

- ASX Operating Rules Procedures
- ASX Settlement Operating Rules

Effective date

These changes will become effective on and from 15 April 2024.
