ASX Listing Rules Compliance Course

About this course

This course is an Approved Listing Rule Compliance Course for the purposes of the ASX Listing Rules.

- All ASX listed entities are obliged to nominate a person to be responsible for its communications with ASX in relation to Listing Rule matters (a 'nominated ASX contact').
- Typically, a listed entity will appoint its company secretary or its investor relations officer to be its nominated ASX contact. It may, and often will, appoint more than one nominated ASX contact to cater for situations where the primary contact is on leave or not available.
- Any person appointed on or after 1 July 2022 to be a nominated ASX contact for an entity admitted to the official list in the 'ASX listing' category* must have completed an 'Approved Listing Rule Compliance Course' and attained a satisfactory pass mark in the examination for that course.

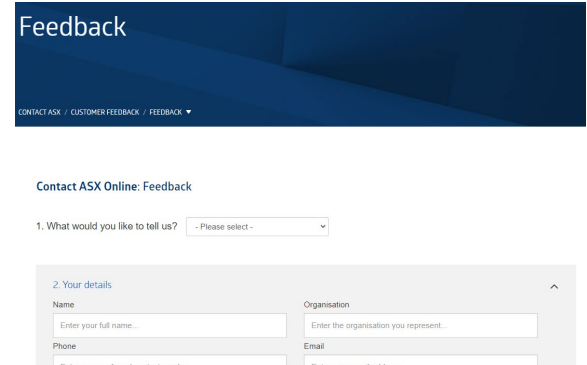

* See Listing Rules 1.1 condition 13 and 12.6. Note that this obligation only applies to the nominated ASX contact for an entity admitted to the ASX official list in the 'ASX listing' category. It does not apply to the nominated ASX contact for an entity admitted to the ASX official list in the 'ASX debt listing' or 'ASX foreign exempt listing' category.

- This course (and the accompanying exam) is not confined to persons who are, or wish to be, nominated ASX contacts.
- Anyone who has an interest in improving or testing their knowledge of the ASX Listing Rules is free to take the course and/or the exam.
- ASX welcomes any suggestions you may have on how to improve this course, including topics you think ASX should add to, or cover in greater detail in, the course.
- Please use the customer feedback page on the ASX website to pass on your suggestions:

<https://www.asx.com.au/about/contact-asx/customer-feedback>

The screenshot shows the 'Feedback' page on the ASX website. At the top, there is a dark blue header with the word 'Feedback' in white. Below the header, there is a breadcrumb trail: 'CONTACT ASX / CUSTOMER FEEDBACK / FEEDBACK'. The main content area is titled 'Contact ASX Online: Feedback'. It features a dropdown menu for '1. What would you like to tell us?' with the text '- Please select -'. Below this is a section titled '2. Your details' which contains two columns of input fields. The left column has fields for 'Name' (with the placeholder 'Enter your full name...'), 'Phone', and 'Email'. The right column has fields for 'Organisation' (with the placeholder 'Enter the organisation you represent...') and 'Email'. There are small icons for expanding and collapsing the form sections.

The structure of the modules

- Each module in the course is in the form of a PowerPoint presentation like this one.
- Each module is likely to take you somewhere between 10 minutes (for the shorter modules) and 35 minutes (for the long modules) to read carefully and absorb its contents.
- Reading all 11 modules is therefore a significant time commitment that you should plan for.
- As illustrated on the next slide, in each module:
 - the dark blue title at the top of a slide describes, at a high level, the subject matter being addressed on that slide, and
 - where applicable, the light blue sub-title at the top of a slide identifies the Listing Rule or Guidance Note supporting the materials on that slide.

Hint: if you have to answer a question in the exam about a specific Listing Rule or Guidance Note, the sub-title on a page should assist you in identifying materials that could be relevant to answering that question.

How to request a halt or suspension

Rules 17.1 and 17.2 and GN 16 (cont.)

- A letter requesting a trading halt or voluntary suspension must include:
 - the entity's reasons for the halt or suspension
 - how long it wants the halt or suspension to last
 - the event it expects to happen that will end the halt or suspension
 - that it is not aware of any reason why the halt or suspension should not be granted, and
 - any other information necessary to inform the market about the halt or suspension, or that ASX asks for.
- In giving the reasons for the halt or suspension, it is not sufficient to simply say that an announcement is pending. The request must state the general nature of the matter to be announced (including if it is about an agreement or transaction, the general nature of the agreement or transaction).

ASX Listing Rules Compliance Course

The structure of the exam

The exam for this course is conducted online and is free of charge.

- The exam consists of 30 multiple choice questions chosen randomly from a bank of over 100 questions. There will be at least 2 questions on each module in the course, ensuring all 11 modules are covered in the exam.
- You need to answer 24 questions (80%) correctly to pass the exam.
 - If you answer a question incorrectly the first time, you will be prompted to try again.
 - If you answer the same question incorrectly a second time, you will be told the correct answer and will be taken to have failed that question.
- Some of the exam questions only allow the selection of one answer, while others allow the selection of multiple answers. If more than one answer is required, there will be a hint on-screen to that effect.

The structure of the exam (cont.)

- The exam is 'open book'.
- When you do the exam, we recommend that you have the home page for the course open on your computer at the same time.
 - Each question in the exam includes an on-screen hint referring to the number and title of the module where the materials needed to answer the question can be found.
 - Having the home page for the course open on your computer will allow you to quickly access that module and, if needed, refresh your memory on the materials covered in it.
- There are a number of questions in the exam that relate to a listed entity's obligations under a specific Listing Rule or ASX's guidance in a specific Guidance Note where the number of the Listing Rule or the name of the Guidance Note is stated in the question. To assist you in answering those questions, we recommend that you have a copy of the Listing Rules and Guidance Notes handy for reference.
- The Listing Rules and Guidance Notes can be accessed online at:
<https://www.asx.com.au/about/regulation/rules-guidance-notes-and-waivers/asx-listing-rules-guidance-notes-and-waivers>.

Taking the exam

- The exam can be accessed from the home page for the course on the ASX web site. You can also access it directly from this link.
- You can sit the exam for this course at any time. You don't have to have studied the 11 modules in the course (although you will find it easier to pass the exam if you do).
- To sit the exam you will need to provide your name, email address and employer name so that we can keep a record of your exam results and send you a certificate of completion if you pass.
- There is no limit on the time you take to complete the exam. Once you start the exam, however, you must complete it in the one session – you are not able to save your partially completed answers and return to complete the exam at a later time.
- There is no limit on the number of times you can sit the exam. If you don't pass, you can always try again.
- When you do pass the exam, we will send you a certificate of completion to your nominated email address that you can use to demonstrate that you have met the requirements of Listing Rules 1.1 condition 13 and 12.6.

An important legal notice

The information provided in the course modules is for educational purposes only.

The course modules do not purport to cover all aspects of the Listing Rules relevant to the subject matter in their respective titles. There may also have been changes to a Listing Rule, or to ASX's policy or guidance on the application of a Listing Rule, mentioned in a module since the module was last updated.

Accordingly, readers should not rely on the contents of the course modules in determining their obligations under the Listing Rules but instead should refer to the Listing Rules and relevant ASX Guidance Notes and, if in doubt, obtain advice from a qualified professional person in respect of the matter.

Nothing in the course modules binds ASX in the application of the Listing Rules in a particular case.

To the extent permitted by law, ASX and its officers, employees and contractors shall not be liable for any loss or damage to any person arising in any way (including because of negligence) from or in connection with any information provided, or omitted to be provided, in the course modules, or from anyone acting or refraining to act in reliance on the materials in the course modules.
